Germany and Turkey

two countries with persistently good economic relations. 13% or EUR 10 billion of all imports to Turkey come from Germany, while 17% or EUR 8 billion of Turkish exports go to Germany. Germany is easily Turkey's most important economic partner. Germany offers opportunities for Turkish companies. With over EUR 2 trillion annual sales in goods & services and EUR 995 billion in exports, Germany accounts for 20% of the EU's GDP. Germany is the engine driving Europe's economy. With more than EUR 460 billion inward investment, Germany proved to be a money magnet and one of the top regions for foreign investors.

The Federal State of Niedersachsen with its capital Hannover is one of the leading regions in Germany. Strong industries such as automotive, aerospace, mechanical engineering, food industry, life sciences and ICT benefit from the region's strategic position at the heart of Europe. Niedersachsen, the logistics state, connects the world by sea, air, road and rail through its central location, where the continent's north-south and east-west transportation routes intersect. It is the home of Volkswagen AG and of the world's biggest trade fairs, Hannover Messe and CeBIT.

A Strong Platform for German-Turkish Business Relations
